Parents and caregivers attended our Family Connections event to learn from other parents about Special Education and Mental Health resources in the city. Participants also had the opportunity to talk to over 15 community partners serving families in Stamford.

117

People from over 50 organizations joined to network and get updates on SC2C's work. Participants participated in two 40 min breakouts covering: Youth Mental Health, Race/Equity, Family Resources, and upcoming work in building two Community Schools.

What Are Participants Saying...

Very engaging. Loved the talk on race equity! I work with a lot of the folks here everyday, but it's helpful to have dedicated time to learn together. - Community Partner Day Attendee

I loved the format with the tables of services and the round tables with dinner made it very relaxed, inviting, and less formal. Appreciate the speakers had a microphone. I liked the size of the room too. - Family Connections Attendee

[I liked]Hearing directly from parents about their experiences navigating the public school special Ed process. - Family Connections Attendee

The event was great. Full of information and personal stories. The time was too short! Thank you ❤️. - Community Partner Day Attendee
