

What is a Community School?

A community school offers families more than a traditional public school. It is a hub where families, schools, local organizations, and the community work together to create a supportive and enriching environment for students' growth and success.

“

As the proud Principal of Dolan Middle School, I could not be any more excited to be partnering with Cradle to Career in becoming a community school!

Becoming a community school greatly enhances our ability to assist families in many areas including translation, medical resources, enrichment programming and transportation for their children!

WHAT CAN YOU EXPECT?

Four things you can expect to see from our community school at Dolan are:

- Social Support – Come to our Family Resource Center to learn about and get connected to social services in Stamford for housing, food, legal, education, and more.
- Convenience – High-quality, no cost, after-school programming means your student can stay at school until 4:30pm and take the last bus home. The diverse activities give students a chance to spend time with friends and do cooking, event planning, art, dance, drones, music, sports, and more.
- Health – School Based Health Center provide on-site confidential physical, dental and mental health services to students enrolled in Stamford Public Schools.
- Community – Come to our community events, attend a parent education class, or stop by and tell us what you would like in our community.
